

Lorenzo Bonci

Junior UX/UI Designer

I'm a Junior UX/UI Designer with a human-centered approach. After studying psychology at university for a year, I moved to Sweden, where I worked as a waiter and improved my English while learning Swedish. During that time, I discovered my passion for UX/UI design and started my journey in the field. I love designing intuitive and accessible interfaces that balance creativity and functionality. I'm looking for a dynamic environment where I can grow and make a real impact.
